Presenting your own project in an interesting and convincing way in a short time can be a challenge. This workshop teaches the basics of pitching and practical tips on how to present your own material concisely. The exchange in a small group makes it possible to receive direct feedback from other filmmakers on an equal footing and provides the opportunity to form European connections.

The workshop will be hosted by Oliver Rauch.

Oliver studied film and television dramaturgy at the Film University Babelsberg KONRAD WOLF. He is the author and director of documentaries and short fiction films. As a dramaturge, Oliver advises authors, producers, funding bodies and television editors. He also teaches at various film schools. Oliver currently works as an editor in the television film, series and children's department of Mitteldeutscher Rundfunk (MDR).

A prerequisite for participation is an accreditation for the festival. You can apply for an accreditation on our website. In return, participants receive free access to all other events of the festival. A catering fee of 25€ will be charged.

Registration until October 25th to dettmer@filmfest-braunschweig.de
